

I am appalled to learn of Sinclair Broadcasting's one-sided plan to have their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is a dire warning about the dangers of too many media outlets in too few hands.

I don't think this is in my interest - the public's interest. The airwaves belong to US! If they want to air this, so be it, but then they should be giving equal time to a similar program putting forward Kerry's position, and attacking Mr. Bush. They are supposed to serve the interests of all the people. These media giants don't do local news in lots of places and there is no longer any balance to what they present - it's one side or the other, usually the side with the deepest pockets. What kind of country are you allowing this to become?

This has got to stop! You are supposed to protect our airwaves and ensure they are used appropriately. Please do your job and either stop Sinclair from airing this volatile ad-in-disguise, or REQUIRE them to give the other side equal time. We, the public, are watching this issue and we are counting on you.

Thank you for listening to my concerns.
